To whom it may concern,

Yelisey Moroz has worked with our company as English to Russian and Ukrainian interpreter and translator since 2014. He has interpreted during numerous meetings with power generation experts, due diligence visits to power plants, and high-level meetings with the Prime Minister of Ukraine, Head of the State Property Fund, and Chairman of the Energy Regulatory Commission.

We have always been impressed with his interpreting and translation skills and command of English, Russian, and Ukrainian. Yelisey is a very hard-working, qualified, and motivated professional. He handles stressful situations with calm and pose. While an excellent all-around interpreter and translator, he possesses special expertise in such subjects as power generation, mining, engineering, business, and law.

We can without hesitation recommend Yelisey for any interpreting or translation job that requires dedication and expertise.
